"Demandments."

A manufacturer posted conspicuously in his establishment copies of a new catalogue which he calls the "Ten Demands."

First—Don't lie—it wastes my time and yours. I'm sure to catch you in the act, and that's the worst end.

Second—watch your work and not the clock. A long day's work makes a long day short, and a short day's work makes my face long.

Third—Give me more than I expect and I will pay you more than you expect. I can afford to increase your pay if you increase my profits.

Fourth—You are worth to yourself; you can't afford to lose anybody else. Fifth—Dishonesty is never an accident. Good men, like good women, can't be tempted when they need it.

Sixth—Mind your own business and in time you will have a business of your own to mind.

Seventh—Don't do anything here which harms your self respect. The employee who will steal for me is capable of stealing from me.

Eighth—It is money my business what you do at night, but if I disapprove it, I will not do it next day, and you do half as much as I demand, you'd last half as long as you hoped.

Ninth—Don't tell me what I like to hear, but what I ought to hear. I do not want a valet today's vanity, but I want one for my dollars.

Tenth—Don't waste time cutting socks out of rotten apples.

A Mistaken Policy.

Lexington Gazette: The report comes from Louisville that an attempt will be made to have the legislature repeal the law prohibiting the sale of liquors on Sunday in cities of the first and second class. We hope it is not true, and if it is that the body will sit down on it and have. Instead of making the license law less stringent they should be made more so, or complete prohibition will become the law.

The temperance people are growing more and more in earnest in the matter and the liquor people are not wise in tempting fate. Moreover if the saloon people in Louisville expect the result of the election in that city as an indication that the people want a wide open city, they will discover their error. The state will work against them and take away what privileges they have.

The saloons, or a large number of them, are responsible for the prohibition sentiment that has grown up all over the country as well as in Kentucky and it stands them in hand to be got rid of and not cause further reaction to them, else they will drive the support of the liberal and conservative element from them. The writer is an advocate of high license and the strictest regulation, which would eliminate the law and crime-breeding saloons and he believes it the part of wisdom for the decent citizen to join in a fight for such a regulation, or they may find that they make a mistake when they would not accept a half a loaf when the alternative was no bread.

Moreover if the saloon people regard the Louisville victory as one that means that they are to be given all sorts of concessions and show this by greater activity in evading the law, the result is that city may turn out to have been the worst thing that could have happened to Democracy. The liquor people must be badly advised when they act so directly against their own interests. Better let well enough alone and not fly to other evils which are sure to engulf them.

GREEN TAG SALE

MILL END and GREEN TAG SALE

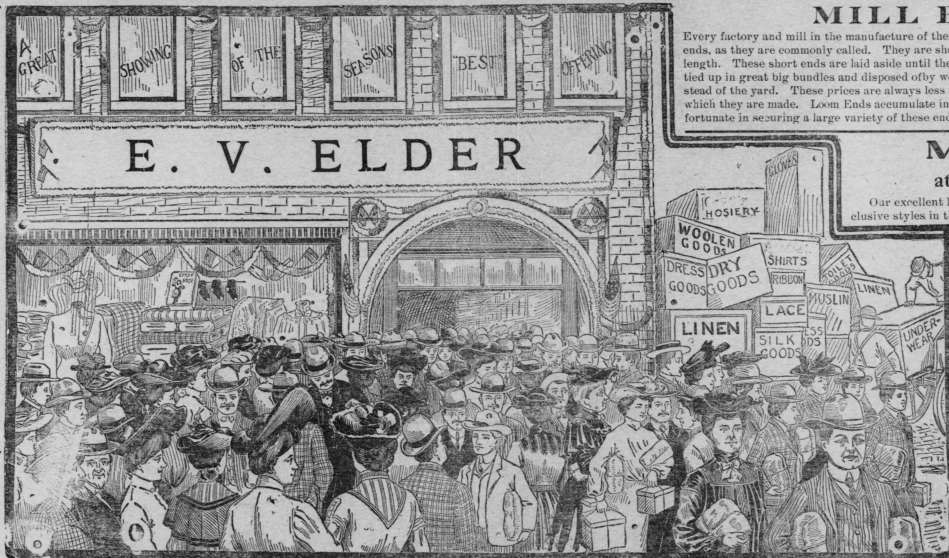

COMMENCING
Saturday, November 20th
TO SATURDAY, DECEMBER 4TH

To Our Many Friends in Richmond and Surrounding Country

On November 20th and continuing to December 4th, we propose to have our annual Mill End and Green Tag Sale. This is looked forward to by our many friends in Madison county as the greatest mercantile event of the year. Our stock was never so large or better varied than it is this year. Our entire stock of Dry Goods, Shoes, Ladies' Coats, Blankets, and Notions were never better assorted than they are at this time. Our business has been built up by strict attention to the details and wants of our customers. We believe in doing a large business on a small margin of profit, and selling goods at one price and market in plain figures. In this annual event our store will greatly changed in appearance, so that our oldest friends will hardly know it. It will pay you to come fifty miles to do your trading at this wonderful bargain sale. We have engaged several extra sales people to wait on you and give you every attention. Do not forget in a case of this kind that the best bargains sometimes come first, so be on hand early the opening day and take advantage of some of the ripest plums.

You Will Smile

When we tickle your pocket book with these low prices. It's a fact you will have more value on your person when you carry away some of our bargains, because in many cases your dollars will do double duty.

MILL ENDS

Every factory and mill in the manufacture of their product, accumulate mill ends or loom ends, as they are commonly called. They are short ends from the looms—4 to 10 yards in length. These short ends are laid aside until the end of the weaving season when they are tied up in great big bundles and disposed of by weight, so much per hundred pounds, instead of the yard. These prices are always less than the cost of the raw material from which they are made. Loom Ends accumulate in the mills and we have been particularly fortunate in securing a large variety of these ends for this mammoth sale.

Millinery at One-half Price

Our excellent line of both street and trimmed hats, exclusive styles in the newest shapes, will go on sale at half price. No matter what you want in way of a hat, whether for street or traveling, afternoon or evening wear, you will find it here at just half of what you would ordinarily pay. During this sale we will make no charge for trimming hats.

Scott's Emulsion

is the original—has been the standard for thirty-five years.

There are thousands of so-called "just as good" Emulsions, but they are not—they are simply imitations which are never as good as the original. They are like thin milk—SCOTT'S is thick like a heavy cream.

If you want it thin, do it yourself—with water—but don't buy it thin.

A PIONEER AERONAUT

The Brave and Daring Frenchman

Pilatre de Rozier.

TRAGIC END OF HIS CAREER.

He Was the First Aeronaut to

Take a Trip From a Balloon, and

His Death to Death With a Companion From a Height of 1,700 Feet.

Jean Francois Pilatre de Rozier, who was born at Metz in 1750 and who was killed, a martyr to his art, by a fall

from his balloon at Boulogne, France,

June 15, 1785, was the first aeronaut

to lose his life in the dangerous work

of mastering the air.

Pilatre de Rozier, who had made decisions to solve the question of ligious as a medium for carrying passengers and could think and dream of

nothing but how he could fashion a machine that would carry him and his companion, when his balloon

finally made some twenty-three ascensions, was always accompanied by the Marquis d'Arlandes, a brave soldier and who had had Pilatre's design. The balloon was always held captive by strong cords.

Whenever he went there was a crowd to watch him. The balloon drifted toward some high trees, and

in consequence of this, the balloon

was torn by the branches and fell down to the ground. They saw the young man calmly throw a

lunch of straw or his fire and quickly leaped out of the basket. He

SAVED BY A PANTHER.

The Flere Deutscher a Good Tem-

peramented man.

Governor Jennings of Indiana used

to tell a story of his early electioning days, in which he said that a panther may be a good companion

represents the story in his "Pioneer

of Indiana." The incident happened

when Governor Jennings was traveling over the thirty settled hills of Dearborn county, electing members for congress.

He met a man with whom he was well acquainted, by name Tom Ogle-

by, who was just getting over a protracted delirium. Jennings began asking Tom about his political views.

The latter said he looked at him

and said:

"You don't think a man just out of a pouting fight ought to be elected in a different manner from others? I am just from the grave. I
